National Elementary Honor Society

NEHS Builds A Leadership Foundation

The National Elementary Honor Society (NEHS) gives young students the opportunity to provide meaningful service to their schools and communities and develop essential leadership skills. As an adviser, you witness firsthand the overwhelming sense of accomplishment your students feel from being inducted and the positive effect they have on the children who look up to them.

NEHS members have a level of dedication and determination that should be celebrated from the moment they are inducted until the next phase in their academic journey. In the pages that follow, you'll find countless ideas for making the NEHS experience a memorable one for students and their families.

NEHS Adviser of the Year Award

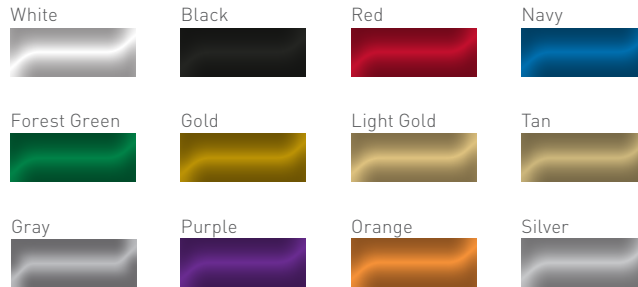

As an NEHS adviser, you regularly go above and beyond the call of duty for your students—and that outstanding leadership and commitment deserves to be celebrated with the NEHS Adviser of the Year Award. Let your principal know that any NEHS adviser with at least three years of experience can be nominated to receive one of two $250 awards. Visit www.nehs.org/awards/adviser-of-the-year for more information.

OUTSTANDING SERVICE PROJECT

Your chapter already exemplifies the ideals of NEHS through community service, but the Outstanding Service Project awards can help your chapter earn some additional recognition. Applications open in September each year, with the deadline for submissions on December 1.

AVAILABLE EMBROIDERY THREAD COLORS

Choose a thread color to go with your custom clothing. If thread color is not specified, white or black thread will be used by default.

CHARACTER IN A JAR

Build and reinforce positive character traits at home, in the classroom, or wherever you interact with kids and teens. Inside the jar are 101 little cards (2" x 2 3/4") printed with words or phrases such as caring, giving, service, empathy, compassion, tolerance, cooperation, and many more. Use them as discussion starters, writing prompts, act them out, or plan ways to live them every day. Based on What Do You Stand For? For Kids, A Guide to Building Character by Barbara A. Lewis, this is a simple, powerful tool for promoting character development. Free Spirit Publishing. 2005.

Make Watson Part of Your Classroom Experience

Searching for a fun way to advance literacy and promote near-peer learning and leadership? Look no further than the Watson lesson plans on scholarship, responsibility, service, and leadership—the four pillars of NEHS!

Each lesson plan aligns with English language arts standards, as well as age-appropriate standards from the American School Counselors Association.

Find these lesson plans—and ideas on how to use them—in the Adviser Resource Center section, 'Here's Watson.'

DOWNLOAD TODAY

The Watson Anthology, a collection of stories written by NEHS students and featuring the adventures of Watson the Bear, is available to download. Each story relates to an NEHS pillar—learn more at www.nehs.org/watsonanthology.
